United States Entry Disclaimer

Please be advised that most EMS precepting and firefighter training takes place in hospitals, EMS and firefighter services with which we have precepting and training agreements, including some at several sites in the United States.

Entry by persons other than U.S. citizens into the United States is not a right, and may be denied by the U.S. authorities without explanation and very limited, if any, recourse. Persons with criminal records (even those who have received a pardon) are frequently refused admission into the United States. Other persons, including those who are believed to be involved in inappropriate activities or affiliated with certain organizations, or who have names similar to those with criminal records, or with those believed to be involved in inappropriate activities or affiliated with certain organizations may also be denied entry.

It is entirely the student's responsibility to gain lawful entry into the United States for purposes of participating in assigned precepting and training. Neither Criti Care, nor those hospital, EMS and firefighter services with which we have precepting agreements have any control over who may be allowed entry to the U.S., nor the means to predetermine who may or may not be allowed entry. Students who are aware of a personal circumstance that may prevent them from lawfully entering the United States should seek independent, professional advice.

Students who are unable to gain lawful entry into the U.S. may not be able to complete the practical component of the PCP program or, if so, such completion will take significantly longer due to lower call volumes at Canadian sites; and will not be able to complete the practical component of the firefighter program.

Where a student's completion of the program is extended or prevented as a consequence of denial of entry into the U.S., Criti Care shall not be liable to that student for any reimbursement, loss or damages whatsoever.
